

Chromastics Hair Coloring Training and Techniques on Video

Chromastics founder, Tom Dispenza announces the availability of new hair color techniques training videos. These new videos will be available soon exclusively through the www.chromastics.com web site and through our distributors.

In each video segment, Tom walks you through a variety of techniques explaining each step clearly and concisely, demonstrating them on a variety of models. In addition to a detailed product overview, some of the topics covered are Color Education, Color Applications, Highlight Touchups, and much more.

Of particular interest is the Neutral Concentrate, a brand new product in the hair coloring industry.
